

Earthquake in Kos

After the earthquake on the island of Kos Thursday night, LuxairTours is in permanent contact with the Greek authorities and the LuxairTour guides on destination.

236 LuxairTours clients are currently in Kos. Since this morning, LuxairTours is getting into touch with all its clients on site. For the time being, we have no information about injured or affected LuxairTours clients.

Its clients' safety is LuxairTours' priority and everything is done to assure our clients wellbeing.

Luxair's next scheduled flight to Kos will be operated this Sunday, 23 July 2017. Clients who booked a flight for 23 or 30 July to Kos and who do not wish to travel, can rebook or cancel their reservation with no additional fees.

Families and relatives can contact the LuxairTours Customer Service Center on: +352 2456-1.
